

business planning & consulting

Business decisions are generally surrounded by financial implications. We help businesses weigh options, formulate strategies and devise tactics that lead to ongoing success.

Businesses periodically reach points when they can benefit from impartial, expert advice. HLB Tautges Redpath offers a wide range of business planning and consulting services to help you meet your goals and make sound business decisions. Our services extend from day-to-day support to long-range strategic planning. Always, our advice is informed by an understanding of new developments and best practices; and grounded by close attention to your business operations and goals.
